MBA/MPH Dual Degree Program

The dual degree programs provide an opportunity for students to concurrently complete their MBA/MPH training.

“The MBA/MPH program has been instrumental in shaping the way I view and approach the business world. My courses and practicum experience have prepared me to address the overarching issues of public health that affect our local community every day.”

UTHealth School of Public Health

The MBA/MPH dual degree is a collaborative program between The University of Texas at San Antonio College of Business and UTHealth School of Public Health. The MBA/MPH program will prepare students to integrate business and public health skills in their professional lives as practitioners, researchers or administrators. Combining the MBA and MPH degrees prepares students to use the expertise and skills gained in business and management toward solving crucial health and healthcare issues faced by public and private organizations worldwide.

MBA/MPH Curriculum

Shared crediting of some coursework makes it possible for students to complete both degrees in a shorter amount of time while customizing the program to meet their interests and educational goals. Flexibility in the program allows most students to combine the MPH requirements of a practicum with other learning experiences from the MBA program. Students are guided by faculty and staff from both participating institutions.

The MBA/MPH degree program is independently accredited through the respective accreditation bodies and are approved by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board.
Admission and Application Requirements

Students seeking admission to the MBA/MPH program must meet the application requirements of both schools. Students are responsible for tuition and fee payments for courses taken in both schools and upon successful completion of the degree requirements, MBA/MPH students will receive a diploma from each school.

Current MBA or MPH students may decide to add the dual degree option to their educational plan and receive credit for shared courses as long as they are in the first half of their initial program.
