Outreach
PROGRAM

Ms. Yara Sánchez-Cabrera is the Puerto Rico Coordinator of the Community Outreach Program for the UPR/MDACC Partnership for Excellence in Cancer Research. She is currently completing her master's thesis in Epidemiology and has a bachelor's degree in Biology, both from the University of Puerto Rico.

Ms. Sánchez-Cabrera has worked in research on colorectal and breast cancer, and prevention of HIV and other sexually transmitted diseases. She has also been a personal trainer for over 12 years. Her passion for research, health, and exercise, has led her to focus on epidemiology. Sánchez-Cabrera has collaborated in several scientific publications on the subject of HPV, HIV and sexually transmitted diseases. Yara's work experience has allowed her to have the opportunity to collaborate in prevention programs aimed at vulnerable populations.
