

Eva Loreda

Consultant

Eva Loreda is a life-long educator and community volunteer. Loreda enjoyed a 36-year career as an educator, starting as a teacher assistant, then teaching grades kindergarten through six, rising to assistant principal, and eventually serving eleven years as principal of Gallegos Elementary. Since retiring in 2006, Loreda has served as a consultant. She consulted with TejasLEE as a national trainer for the University of Houston. She also conducted the Houston METRO Light Rail Safety School Program for students. She has served on the Mayor's Magnolia Planning Task Force and is a member of American Legion Ladies Auxiliary Post 472, the Metropolitan Organization and the Milby Alumni Scholarship Committee. Trustee Loreda considers herself a product of Houston – she attended HISD schools, graduating from Milby High School, and received her higher education at Houston universities. Loreda earned her Bachelor of Science in Education at Texas Southern University.
